Late-night programming at Perishable Theatre:

LIVE BAIT: TRUE STORIES FROM REAL PEOPLE

Friday, November 6th at 10pm. All seats $5

At Perishable Theatre, 95 Empire Street, Providence, RI 02903

Doing anything involves risk. Whether building a birdhouse, attempting to communicate with a loved one, driving to the drugstore, or hashing out a business deal, there are so many ways for things to go wrong. Beforehand, it's best not to think about them. But afterwards, they can make for some great stories.

If you have one that is in any way, shape, or form connected to our November theme, "How Could You Go Wrong?" then come on down to LIVE BAIT and tell it. Or just come and watch others share theirs. All you have to do is sign up at the door (come a little early, sign-up space is limited), and when it's your time, we'll call your name. It's that easy. No notes, no rants, just tell your story like you're telling your friends over a couple of drinks. There is a five-six minute time limit, please respect it.

Everyone is encouraged, performers and non-performers alike. Don't miss this Rhode Island Monthly Best of RI winner for "Best Storytelling for Grown-ups," Providence Phoenix Best of 2009 Editors' Pick for "Best Excuse to Yammer On and On" and Motif Magazine Theatre Award winner for "Best Audience Participation Show."

LIVE BAIT is hosted by Phil Goldman. With musical accompaniment and original "theme" song by Jerry Gregoire.

10:00pm Friday, November 6th, 2009
